KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

HEALTHCARE?

Much has been said about the healthcare bill. This is a bad bill. It has so many loopholes in it that any perpetrator can manipulate it to do anything they want. If it gets passed into law, it will literally take all the freedom away from the people. No such bill should ever be adopted that does not include everyone (such as this one does not). Any law that excludes the ones who are making the law, naturally insulates them from it (until a reason is found to change it?). One of the worst proposed laws is that people would be denied a long life. To live beyond a certain age (65?) will not be allowed. Children that have an impairment are considered too expensive to treat and not useful, therefore they are expendable. Another proposal is to suggest to the injured, returning military men and women that they are no longer useful to their country and will be a burden to their family, which is an abomination. This was discussed recently on radio.

People have been misled in thinking this was to be a good change in our government. This is definitely not the change we need, or want. What we may need to do is find a huge broom and go to work cleaning up our government offices.

I want you to know that I am a 91 year "young" woman. I am still of sound mind, alert, energetic and have a passion for life. I love my family and friends and they return that love. I am a Christian who loves our God and believes He is in charge of my life and expiration date. How does anyone dare to deny this?

God will expect an accounting!

THE UPTOWN GARDENER

by Ruth Herring
 This week I have started to clean out the garden for the season. In many ways I will be glad to not be concerned with it. I am sure by the beginning of the new year I will be ready to think about gardening again.

My porch box flowers are beginning to show a lot of stress and looking really bad. So soon I will be taking them down for this year. I also have several nasty trees appearing in flower beds that I need to dig out. They always seem to grow so fast and healthy. I will do that when most every thing is going dormant so I can put a bit of vegetation killer on what roots I don't get out.

Our pet squirrels buried the corn we gave them and I had quite a nice crop of corn coming up in the flower beds and let some of it grow thinking I could feed it to them this winter. Wrong! They have already cleaned it out. I guess as long as they provide their own work it is ok. We enjoy watching them.

My dad had a family of fox squirrels that lived in a huge oak tree near the house. Some of them were really large. He enjoyed them so and nobody dared to shoot them during hunting season. He would go to another woods to hunt.

After they got the indoor plumbing in the house our old government issue toilet became a store house for the squirrels to

On at least a dozen different occasions in major basketball tournaments, Warren had folded in the championship games. January of 1960 started out the same way. It was Lancaster versus Warren in the championship game of the Huntington County Tourney of 1960. Warren had been three times a runner-up in the county and nine times a runner-up in the sectional and they finally got it done.

Lancaster leaped to a 6-0 lead and then to 10-4 with two minutes to go in the first quarter. Everyone was wondering if this was going to be number 13 loss of championship games. But the Lighting 5 men didn't seem too shook. After the first quarter, the score was Lancaster 16-10. In the second quarter, Rich Morrison hit a couple, Logan slipped in a couple free throws and Carpenter floated a fielder to tie the score with three minutes left in the half. When the half ended the score was Lancaster 23 and Warren 22. Things were looking up. The Big Blue control game began to bother the smaller white and red team.

The Warren team, which played a good game against Andrews, showed they hadn't lost their touch in the second half. Grub, Logan, Carpenter and Howell scored in the third quarter. At the end of the third quarter the score was Warren 36-24. The lighting 5 team had outscored Lancaster 14-1. Lancaster seemed tired to start the fourth quarter but tried a rally to overcome the Warren team. Their rally was denied and Warren won the county tourney 52-37.

After a snack in Huntington the team was given a screaming police escort back to Warren. Some sixty autos, horns blaring, trailed the conquering heroes back to town. The Warren fire department and some fifty more horn honking autos joined the parade as it went down Wayne Street. Several hundred fans lined the street to wave to the team.

Some 400 fans joined the ball team in the gym for a victory dance. On Monday, principal Souder announced after attendance there would be a celebration in the gym and then no school the rest of the day. In the gym following attendance a big victory cake was passes out to team members and then to the rest of the student body.

FALL FESTIVAL

Roanoke will be the place to be the weekend following Labor Day, as the community celebrates its 56th annual Fall Festival. This year's theme is "Believe in Magic."

Dates for Huntington County's oldest community festival are Sept. 10-13. The list of activities is long and the variety of events covers all ages. Most of the activities take place at the Roanoke Park, just a block west of the downtown area.

There will be free entertainment both Friday and Saturday nights, Sept. 11-12. Friday evening Shade N' Shannon, a Johnny Cash-era tribute band will perform followed by The Remnants, a classic rock band. On Saturday, The Don Miller Magic and Comedy Show will begin the entertainment right after the afternoon parade, with the country music group Backwater playing later in the evening.

Two parades will make their way down Main Street during the festival. The Ageless Iron Tractor Parade is set for Friday evening, while the traditional Fall Festival Parade steps off Saturday afternoon.

Carnival rides provided by Top Notch Amusements along with crafters and street vendors will kick off the festival on Thursday night, and continue through Saturday evening.

The Roanoke Pullers Association will host two events that always draw huge crowds. Pullers will gather Friday night for the NTPA Tractor Pull, and on Saturday will be the Demolition Derby which typically draws the largest single crowd at the festival. Both draw competitors from near and far. Also set for Friday evening will be the Corn Bag Toss Tournament.

Main Street gets busy early Saturday with a Five Mile and a One Mile Fun Run, along with the Roanoke Farmers Market which will wrap up for the year after a nine-week stint. In the park, kids' games of all types will be scattered about for most of the morning. Other activities that day include a car show, raffle, pancake and sausage breakfast, plenty of food vendors, an antique tractor display, cake auction and more.

Sunday's events include a Community Worship Service in the morning, and a performance by the Wray Brothers in the afternoon.

Shade N' Shannon will get the Friday night crowd going with their Strictly Cash Show: The Songs and Times of Johnny Cash. Plenty of Cash tunes will be mixed in with songs by contemporaries like Elvis Presley, Patsy Cline and Hank Williams Sr., and recent artists like Josh Turner, Carrie Underwood and Gretchen Wilson. The duo performs at festivals and markets in northeastern Indiana and the Midwest. They have appeared at the Neon Armadillo, State Fair, Three Rivers Festival, and other venues.

Immediately following will be The Remnants, a Fort Wayne area precision classic rock band that includes musicians from varied backgrounds. Each played with several different bands and came together to create a fresh sound with their new group. Band members will say this group was formed from the remnants of several other projects that had simply run their course, and hence the name. Long-time band member Ralph Tourkow is the founder of the group, bringing several people from the well-respected former Answer Band when it dissolved back in 1998.

BackWater has experience in the Nashville music scene, and is made up of some of the Fort Wayne area's best musicians. BackWater has performed at Friday Nite Lights at Jefferson Pointe, opened for Billy Currington at the Three Rivers Festival and for Aaron Tippin at the Neon Armadillo. They play regularly at local festivals and regional clubs.

Don Miller has charmed audiences both young and the young at heart all across the country for over 30 years. He began doing shows in 1974 at the Children's Museum in Indianapolis. He was the resident magician at the Indianapolis Zoo and later the Louisville Zoo. He has performed at the New York Central Park Zoo, Chattanooga Aquarium, Zoo Montana and Six Flags Kentucky Kingdom.

The Wray Brothers has been at the forefront of southern gospel music for over 45 years. The contemporary Christian music group has performed at fairs, festivals, churches, community celebrations, concert halls and corporate events.

NEW WORKSHOPS

Half of this year's 34 workshops are new and a fourth track has been added to the lineup for the 2009 Day of Healing: A Personal Growth Conference October 31 at the Honeywell Center.

The 17th annual event is hosted by the Wabash Friends Counseling Center and supported by the following keynote sponsors: Beacon Credit Union, Ford Meter Box Foundation, Grandstaff-Hentgen Funeral Service, Community Foundation of Wabash County, Wabash Electric's Intraset Technologies, Indiana University-Purdue University-Fort Wayne, Mental Health America Wabash County and Selah House, Anderson.

"We are always looking to provide our attendees with new insights into the latest issues that people are dealing with in today's world," said Scott Makin, LMHC, NCC, MA, director of the Wabash Friends Counseling Center. "That's why each year's conference is as exciting, if not more exciting, than the last."

Participants can attend two workshops during the day-long event: one from 10:45 a.m. until noon and the second from 1:45 to 3 p.m. The workshops are led by some of the area's leading mental health professionals and educators in their respective fields.

Attendees will also get to hear Dr. John Townsend, renowned psychologist, entertaining speaker and prolific writer, two times: at 9 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. The California resident is making his fourth appearance at the Day of Healing.

Townsend will also conduct two of the new workshops. In the morning, he will lead "The Clinical Aspects of Love" in the Mental Health Workers Track and, in the afternoon, his topic will be "Leadership Beyond Reason: How Great Leaders Succeed by Harnessing the Power of Their Internal Lives" in the Church Leadership Track.

The new track this year is in the arena of career building. "With all the unemployment we're seeing here at home, throughout Indiana and in neighboring states, we thought this would be a vital issue to pursue this year," Makin said. "We want to offer information that can help people who have lost their jobs to get back into the workforce. We want to arm them with the best tools available."

The two workshops are entitled "Writing an Unbeatable Resume" and "Guerilla Marketing for Job Hunters." They will be presented by Martha Smith, a licensed mental health counselor, who is also associate dean of students and director of career development and counseling services at Huntington University.

Some of the other new workshops are entitled "Being Whole Without Being Married - Developing Your Own Emotional and Spiritual Health," "Reclaiming Hope: A Multimodal Approach to Defining and Defeating Depression," "How to' for Caregivers," "Expressing and Responding to Anger," "Boundaries: When to Say Yes, How to Say No" and "Inside the Asperger's Mind."

The Day of Healing has been approved by the National Board of Certified Counselors for 5.0

TOOTH TIPS

By: Dr. Kevin J DeaKyne DDS, PC
CARIES AND SECONDHAND SMOKE

A STUDY COMPLETED AT THE University of Rochester School of Medicine and coauthored by the American Academy of Pediatrics Center for Child Health Research has associated second-hand or "passive" smoke as a risk for dental caries. As reported in GDA Action (May 2003), children have a higher rate of caries when they grow up around smokers than children who do not. The research examined data from the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey of 3,531 children aged 4 to 11 years. These children underwent both a dental examination and a blood test for cotinine (which measures nicotine exposure). Results indicated that children with increased levels of cotinine had more decay evident in their deciduous teeth than children with no secondhand smoke exposure. Even after adjusting for age, family income, geographic region and frequency of dental visits, the results were the same. The conclusion reached was that there exists a link between passive smoke and the risk of cavities in children. A reduction in secondhand smoke is important for children's dental health. <sup>1</sup>

BECOME A CAMPER

Find out why camping is such a popular outdoor recreational activity and how to enjoy it by going to the Hoosier Outdoor Experience, Sept. 26-27, and learning the basics of this family-friendly pastime.

"Family camping trips are some of the best memories I have of time spent with my wife and children," said Bob Stum, DNR budget analyst and avid camper. "If you want to know what's going on in kids' lives, take them camping."

At the Hoosier Outdoor Experience, volunteers from Camptown Inc. and Jameson Camp will provide education on camping equipment, fun camping activities and camping destinations. Participants should leave armed with the necessary information on how to start camping.

"Camping provides a wonderful opportunity for families to bond," said Don Schafer, executive director of Camptown Inc.

The Hoosier Outdoor Experience is a family-friendly event that is the first of its kind in Indiana. Unlike traditional trade shows, visitors will be able to enjoy hands-on experiences in a wide range of outdoor activities, such as fly fishing, target shooting, archery, kayaking, mountain biking, hiking, rock climbing and much more.

The Hoosier Outdoor

Experience is presented by the Department of Natural Resources and the Indiana Natural Resources Foundation, with sponsorship support from the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust; Ball Brothers Foundation; WXIN-Fox 59, Indianapolis; and numerous other sponsors.

PIONEER FESTIVAL

The list of entertainment for the Forks of the Wabash Pioneer Festival has been released. Performing on Saturday are the Applejack Kloggers, Jamie Olinger Family, Gary Bishop, and Deadwood. On Sunday the entertainment consists of the Sharp Creek Singers and Deb Schenkle, Shade Jonze/Kenny Taylor and the Liston Creek Singers. There is also a period fashion show scheduled for 2:45 p.m. on Sunday. The Civil War Company Singers and Liza and Mark Woolever will stroll through the park presenting music.

The 34th annual festival will be held Saturday, September 26, and Sunday, September 27, on the wooded grounds of Hier's Park on Huntington, Indiana's south side. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. In addition, there will be an old-time worship service at 9 a.m. on Sunday held by the Warren United Church of Christ.

Re-enactors in Pioneer Village, Olde Town and an encampment will live the life of Indiana's pioneer days. Visitors can get a close-up view of sheep shearing, blacksmithing, woodcarving, cream separating, pottery making and many other arts of yesteryear. Vintage engines, tractors, cars and bicycles are on display. Shoppers can get their fill of antiques and handmade crafts and the youngsters can occupy their time with pioneer games and activities - even ride a giant wooden marry-go-round. Flowers, fruits, vegetables and other farm products will be available at the farmers' market, and the hungry can partake of everything from apple fritters to barbeque pork to homemade caramel corn.

We also have the Hoosier Ladies Aside returning after taking a year off and are adding the Seven Years War Horse Tactical Demonstration. Both of these will perform throughout both days in the encampment area.

A complete schedule of entertainment is available online at pioneerfestival.org.

Admission to the festival is $3 for adults, $1 for students and free for children under 5. Due to the economy, we are offering free admittance to the festival for elementary children (kindergarten through 5th grade) if they are dressed in pioneer clothing and accompanied by a paying adult.

In the interest of safety, no pets, skateboards, bicycles or skates are allowed on the grounds and this is a smoke-free festival. Free parking is available adjacent to the park.

Green arrowhead signs will direct visitors to Hier's Park from any major highway coming into Huntington.

For additional information, or for lodging information, call the Huntington County Visitor and Convention Bureau at 800-848-4282 for 260-358-8687.

store nuts and acorns for the winter. They had it lucky, dad would help gather up the walnuts and put them in for them. The walnut tree was just a few feet away so he didn't have to carry them far. That is what you call loving nature around you. He was proud of his fox squirrels, they were big and healthy and very entertaining for him.

I bought a German beer stein on Ebay that had our family name Forst on it and on the other side it reads in German "keeper of the woods" which I presume is what Forst means. Dad was certainly a keeper of the woods he loved so much.

Few days ago I purchased some muskmelons at the farmers market. They were very tasty. Some I froze and decided to experiment with some in baking so I made some quick bread which turned out good. Will share it with you, it made a nice moist bread.

Puree melon enough for 3 cups, cream 2/3 cup butter or margarine, 2 cups sugar, add 4 eggs and mix well. Sift 3 1/3 cups flour, 2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, add to the sugar mixture, add the melon gradually and add if desired 1 cup nuts. Pour into lightly greased or sprayed loaf pans. Bake 350 for 1 hour makes 2 loaves.

My wish is all of you had a nice holiday weekend.
