BE SAFE BE SEEN

Crime Prevention Coalition Offers Tips To Trick-or-Treaters

'Be safe, be seen this Halloween' should be the attitude of Indiana youngsters and parents, says the Indiana Crime Prevention Coalition.

As young families gear-up for their annual ghoulish trek to neighbors' homes for treats, it's important parents and guardians insist specific safety rules are followed, says Col. Scott Minier, ICPC's executive director:

1. Go with a grown-up or in a group.
  2. Try to trick-or-treat early while still light outside.
  3. Wear a costume that makes it easier to walk, see, hear and be seen.
  4. If youngsters and chaperones are out after dark, make sure costumes are light in color.
  5. Use reflective tape to enhance costumes and be seen more easily.
  6. Carry a flashlight, reflective bag or glowstick.
  7. Consider makeup instead of a mask.
  8. Cross only at corner - never between parked vehicles mid-block.
  9. Trick-or-treat in your own neighborhood. Agree what streets and homes will be visited and set boundaries.
  10. If streets have no sidewalks, avoid them or walk facing traffic.
  11. Adults should check all treats closely and report anything suspicious to police - immediately.
- "Early dusk, fallen leaves and seasonal drizzles can make Indiana streets unsafe on any given fall evening," Minier said. "Add to that nearly one-half million, excited Hoosier youngsters clad in costumes that often block their vision while hurrying to strangers' doors in areas they sometimes are unfamiliar - and you have tragedies waiting to happen. By following these hard-learned lessons, Halloween can be memorable for all the right reasons."

GEMMER PARK OPEN HOUSE

Huntington County Baseball, Inc. presents "Take Me Out To The Ballpark", an OPEN HOUSE for the New Gemmer Park located on Evergreen Road off of Waterworks Road. The public is invited to see the progress of the new ballpark this Sunday, October 27 from 2 pm to 4 pm. Bricks will be for sale during the event to help fund the project. Free hotdogs and refreshments will be served.

The Gemmer Park-Vision 2000 project was designed to relocate the current 10-acre facility to a much larger 33-acre complex. By doing so, Huntington County Baseball, Inc. will soon be able to expand their current youth baseball programs.

The current ballpark was constructed in 1963 and could not be economically upgraded to meet the current standards or requirements. The concession stand is poorly located and a lack of adequate restroom facilities forced the corporation to lease portable restrooms during activities, which were less than desirable during summer months. Current diamond lighting and parking facilities are also substandard.

The New Gemmer Field-Vision 2000 project entails four new diamonds that will surround a central building. Two diamonds will be used for the Pee Wee Reese league (ages 11-12), Sandy Koufax league (ages 13-14), and the Mickey Mantle league (ages 15-16). The remaining two diamonds will be used by the T-ball league (ages 5-6), Roberto Clemente league (ages 7-8), and the Willie Mays league (ages 9-10). Two additional diamonds for further expansion may also be added as future funding permits.

Funding for the project has primarily been received through community grants, in-kind support, and corporate/individual contributions. The original plan was to open the ballpark this year, but completion of the project has been slowed down because of Indiana's financial crises. $93,000 that was promised and approved in Build Indiana money is currently frozen and the committee is seeking funds to finish the Vision 2000 project for it's new grand Opening date in 2004.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

HALLOWEEN COLLECTIBLES RISE IN VALUE

It's scary. Tacky Halloween decorations you've been throwing out for decades are worth money. Many collectors are spending hundreds or thousands of dollars for antique jack-o'-lanterns, party favors, post-cards, toys, and decorations.

Prices are going nowhere but up, according to Skinner, Inc., a Boston auction house that includes Halloween items in its toys and dolls sales.

New Halloween collectibles also are a booming business. Halloween has become a marketing monster. In the 1980s concerns about the safety of trick-or-treaters prompted more parents to go along. They liked it so much that the holiday is now a $2.5 billion industry.

Why the fascination with Halloween? Some say it's because of parents' fond childhood memories. Others say it's because of children's books boosting Halloween's popularity. Whatever the case, Halloween mania is growing.

HOW WORRIED SHOULD YOU BE ABOUT TRICK-OR-TREATING?

With multiple child abductions reported during the summer, parents might think child abduction by strangers is more common than it is.

According to national crime statistics, 3,200 and 4,600 successful non-family abductions occur during a year. In a country of 285 million people, this is a very small number.

Still Halloween remains a holiday when children may be especially at risk since they are supposed to do exactly what parents tell them not to take candy from strangers.

Supervision is crucial, police say. In small, isolated neighborhoods, parents can establish a trick-or-treat time and all adults can watch the street during that time. In urban neighborhoods, parents can take their children to public Halloween parties.

All children, even as old as 16- or 17-years-old, should be cautioned to stay in their own neighborhood to trick-or-treat. Here are some other tips from law enforcement:

- Adults do not need directions from children or teenagers. They do not need help of any kind. If anyone asks for their help, young children should run home.
- Young children and teenagers should never approach a car.
- Never speak to an adult whose name they do not know.
- Never enter the house of a teenager or adult.
- Never accept candy, or a gift, from an adult or a teenager.

Check these Halloween safety tips

It used to be that parents costumed their kids and just sent them out to beg for Halloween treats. For better or worse, those days are gone.

Today, no child under age 13 should make the rounds unless accompanied by an adult.

Cautions for kids

- Stay outside houses. Never go in.
- Walk on sidewalks, not in the street.
- Cross at corners, not in the middle of the blocks.
- Visit only those homes that have a porch light on.
- Follow the route you and your parents have agreed on.
- Be cautious when you encounter strange animals or strange people.

- Don't eat anything until parents examine it.

Cautions for parents

- Let kids draw faces on pumpkins, but don't let them carve with a knife.
- Place pumpkins with a lighted candle inside on a table away from flammable objects like curtains.
- Use makeup rather than a mask, so vision is not obstructed.
- Put reflective tape and patches on costumes to make kids more visible.
- Provide a flashlight for dark areas.

WINDOWS COMPUTER TIPS

Move or Copy Files to Subfolders

You can use Windows Explorer in Windows XP to move or copy a file by dragging the file icon to a folder. When you have Folders displayed on the left side of the window, it's easy to drag a file to a different folder.

If the folder you want isn't visible because the folder it's in is not expanded, here's a trick that will save you time and frustration. Drag the file icon to the collapsed (unexpanded) folder, and hold it there for a few seconds. The folder automatically expands and then you can drop the file into the folder you want.

Ways to Delete a File or Folder

When folders and files start to clutter up your hard disk, Windows XP gives you several ways to get rid of the files and folders you don't want.

Within Windows Explorer, you can use any of these methods:

§ Right-click the file or folder, and then click Delete.

§ Select the file or folder, and then press the DELETE key.

§ Select the file or folder, click the File menu, and then click Delete.

§ Drag the file or folder to the Recycle Bin on the desktop.

Note: To access Windows Explorer, click All Programs, and then click Windows Explorer.

BBB ALERT

The Better Business Bureau of Northeastern Indiana is issuing an alert on a company by the name of GLOBAL SERVICES. This company is contacting consumers in Northeastern Indiana claiming "you have won a free 3 day vacation" to different locations. The consumer is asked to call a number 1-800-233-9985 with a secret code to claim their prize. The consumer is asked to come to the office at 2825 Dupont Road. The consumer has to sit through a ninety-minute presentation on purchasing time-shares.

The consumer must then pay $230 to claim their vacation. The company that redeems these vacations (National Redemption Center) has an unsatisfactory record with the BBB of San Diego due to failure to deliver the promised product or service.

The BBB of Northeastern Indiana recently gave GLOBAL SERVICES an unsatisfactory rating due to unanswered complaints.

The BBB urges consumers to be cautious when dealing with Global Services.

DROUGHT RELIEF

WASHINGTON - U.S. Rep. Mark Souder announced today that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has designated 74 Indiana counties, including all of the counties that currently make up the 4th Congressional District, as primary disaster areas eligible for federal relief.

"Across northeast Indiana and the entire Midwest, farmers are facing devastation caused by this year's severe drought," Souder said. "It is precisely for this kind of situation that Department of Agriculture emergency relief programs exist. This assistance will allow our farmers to stay on their feet and begin preparations for what we all hope is a more successful harvest next year."

The following counties in northeast Indiana have been designated disaster areas: Adams, Allen, DeKalb, Huntington, Jay, LaGrange, Noble, Steuben, Wells and Whitley. The designation makes farm operators eligible to be considered for low-interest emergency loans from the Farm Service Agency. The FSA considers each loan on the basis of losses, security availability and repayment ability. Local FSA offices (listed below) can provide affected farmers with further information.

Huntington County - Huntington Service Center, phone: (260)356-6816, fax: (260)356-9557

Wells County - Bluffton Service Center, phone: (260)824-1930, fax: (260)824-3284

ACHIEVES ISO 9001

AOQC Moody International, Inc., Houston, has certified that the quality management system of the manufacturing division of Pathfinder Services, Inc., Huntington, complies with ISO 9001. ISO 9001 is a family of standards created by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO), Geneva, Switzerland.

The ISO 9001 standards are concerned with the processes that ensure that Pathfinder Services products conform to customer requirements.

The Pathfinder Services manufacturing division provides a number of services to industry, including lightweight assembly, cutting, and packaging. The organization also inspects and sorts parts supplied by other companies to local manufacturers. In addition, Pathfinder Services manufactures a proprietary product, Fraction Islands(R), an educational aid. The organization employs 24 people in its manufacturing division, including 13 who have developmental disabilities.

"In order to prepare for our audit, we implemented a number of new procedures and documentation systems," said Dave Runion, assistant director of manufacturing. "We are grateful to Kay Smith of Huntington Quality Associates for helping us do that."

Achieving ISO 9001 certification will allow Pathfinder Services to continue doing work for suppliers to the automotive industry, such as Dana Power Fluid Division, Andrews. "We think it will also open doors for numerous other opportunities," Runion said.

In addition to its manufacturing services, Pathfinder Services provides a wide range of human services in 15 northern Indiana counties. Pathfinder Services is a not-for-profit organization. More information about the organization is available on the World Wide Web at www.pathfinderservices.org. More information about ISO 9001 standards is available at www.iso.ch/iso/en/iso9000-14000/.

MOSQUITOES BEWARE

With all the fears about West Nile Virus - here are a few handy tidbits that were emailed to me - some I've tried and know they work and others I don't know about.

· Use Bounce Fabric Softener Sheets...Best thing ever used in Louisiana...just wipe on & go...Great for Babies

· Bob, a fisherman, takes one vitamin B-1 tablet a day April through October. He said it works. He was right. The odor the tablet gives out through your skin (YOU cannot smell it) repels mosquitoes, black flies, no seeum's, and knat's. It does not work on stinging insects. Hasn't had a mosquito bite in 33 years. Try it. Every one he has talked into trying it works on them. Vitamin B-1 (Thiamine Hydrochloride 100 mg.)

· Kenn said NPR reports that if you eat bananas, the mosquitoes like you, something about the banana oil as your body processes it. (Maybe they need the potassium too) Stop eating bananas for the summer and the mosquitoes will be much less interested.

· This is going to floor you, but one of the best insect repellents someone found (who is in the woods every day), is Vick's Vaporub.

· Plant marigolds around the yard, the flowers give off a smell that bugs do not like, so plant some in that garden also to help ward off bugs without using insecticides.

· "Tough guy" Marines who spend a great deal of time "camping out" say that the very best mosquito repellent you can use is Avon Skin-So-Soft bath oil mixed about half and half with alcohol.

· Mix your own: 20 drops Eucalyptus oil, 20 drops Cedarwood oil, 10 drops Tea Tree oil, 10 drops Geranium oil, 2 oz. carrier oil (such as Jojoba) Mix together in a 4 oz. container. Apply to skin as needed avoiding the eye area. Keep out of reach of children. Test on a small area of skin for sensitivities Experiment with different percentages of essential oil.

· One of the best natural insect repellents that I've discovered is made from the clear real vanilla (not the grocery store vanilla extract which is mostly alcohol). This is the pure vanilla that is sold in Mexico. It's cheap there if you know of someone that lives there or in the US close to the border. If not, health food stores usually carry it or can order it for you. I use it half vanilla and half water and find that it works great for mosquitoes and ticks, don't know about other insects.

· When all else fails—get a frog. (Editors Note: Let me know if you have any other home remedies - we'll keep them in mind for next summer.)

Members present at roll call were: Maxine Alexander, Marian Dawson, Mabel Fields, Minnette Hartle, Reva Heiney, Helen Husband, Velma Lindstrom, Lavona Myers, Lilly Nutter, Virginia Olson, Martha Rumpel, Emily Sapp, Helen Stokes, Helen Jo Strassner, Mary Wiley and Marjorie Witty.

A report was given concerning a request for volunteers at the Salomonie School. Lavona Myers and Lilly Nutter answered the call and did the required education needs. They both expressed how rewarding the experience was.

Subject about snack trays and cups was announced that the supply which were housed in Innis Party Room, are now placed in McAlister Lounge. These trays and cups were donated many years ago by former members, Edna Clement Alfeld, Pauline Fluhrer, Lucy Lehman and others, for Bay View Reading Club.

President Myers shared a piece titled, "Everything: I Need To Know I Learned From Noah's Ark," after which the program was turned over to Mabel Fields.

"Credo of Angels For The Believer" was Mabel's subject; she related many very exciting and interesting incidents of angels in action. She stated we may not always be aware of their presence, but have been said to be our neighbors. Mabel told of many accounts of her own experiences with angels as well as others she has read or was told ..... a little girl hit by an on coming car, the impact caused her to roll rapidly to an open sewer, but suddenly was stopped at the edge of the opening. The moment they were able to speak to her about the sudden stop, she asked; "Didn't you see that big angel holding me back"?

The committee for this month were, Mary Wiley, Minnette Hartle and Mabel Fields, who served delicious fancy cookies, tea and coffee.

The door prize was awarded to Lilly Nutter who drew a ticket stating, "You're an Angel and you are a winner."

Acknowledgement of a contribution to the U.M.M. Home Souder Scholarship Fund was reported as well as a Thank You from the recipient.

A letter to Ruth Caley of Majenica was requested to notify her of the memberships desire to make her an Honorary Member of Bay View Reading Club.

AFTER SCHOOL STORY TIME

Fourteen children attended the After School Story Time at the Van Buren Public Library on Friday October 18, 2002 for a Popcorn Poppin Day.

As they entered the library they were given a sheet of games to play about popcorn. They had a word search, secret code to crack and true-or-false questions about America's favorite snack. They noticed the huge plastic bag of popcorn under the serving table donated by Weaver Popcorn and employee Nancy Richwine. The children were amazed at how large the bag was, and wondered when they would be able to eat and enjoy it.

Karen shared some important facts about popcorn. She shared with the children a stalk of field corn and a stalk of popcorn. Then we compared the differences. Field corn was so much taller than the popcorn. The popcorn ear was smaller and the kernels were smaller too. It had seamed like the field corn was ahead on everything, but the popcorn had something very special it would be able to do that the field corn couldn't do and that was to pop. So that put the popcorn way ahead.

The children were given a sheet of paper to create their very own bingo card, to play Popcorn Bingo. We had all kinds of prizes, Wendy's food coupons, watches and other items. The children enjoyed themselves as they used popcorn to cover their numbers. Along with a bag of popcorn they enjoyed candy corn and M&M's. Every one had a good time. An attendance drawing took place and Kyle Brewer was the winner of a popcorn popper.

The children found out who were the winners in the recycling poster contest here at the library. The winner was Conner Pannell; runner-ups were Icily Cromer and Robert Tate.

Attending were: Seth Wright, Jake Wright, Danielle Scott, Icily Cromer, Connor Pannell, Desirae Litchfield, Jessica Smith,

PRE SCHOOL STORY TIME

Little Panther Pre School attended twice for story time at the Van Buren Public Library on Wednesday October 16, 2002. The Little Panther Pre School now has a morning class and an afternoon class. As the children entered into the library they received their name tag bear to wear around their neck. They also found on the floor farm animal masks to choose from and to wear. After the children put on their different masks they then made the sounds the animals make. The children did a good job.

The children in school are learning about animals and numbers.

Karen read the book "Farm Animals" by David M. Schwartz. The children were able to participate in the reading by guessing what animals Karen was reading about. On the easel Karen had a picture with animals and numbers. The children were able to count the different animals to match the correct number. The children then went on a tour of a farm via the television set.

The children could check out 2 books to take and enjoy. As a gift from the library they received a search for pumpkins color sheet and a paper on counting along with a pumpkin sucker.

Those attending were: Autumn Hurmon, Christian Bratcher, Holly Felver, Mikela Richardson, Brady Baughman, Jarren Griffith, P.J. Jones, Brooke Bollhoefer, Joey Kerschner, Remi Felver, Caitlin Imhoff, Johna Shelton, Samantha Kessinger, Colleen Mealer, Grace Pluimer, Will Bratcher, Chelsea Cason, Courtney Embry, Dillion Embry, Hannah Hutchinson, Katelyn Buis, Kessler Lee-Suddarth, Cash Lee-Suddarth, Emily Snedigar, teacher Mrs. Bridget Green and Assistant Mrs. Annette Boucher.

WARREN STORY TIME

Fifteen children enjoyed story time at the Warren Library of Friday, October 18. Melissa Freck led an interesting and informative half hour as she talked with the children about harvest. She showed pictures of combines and asked how many have ridden in one. She also read Tops and Bottoms, a story about harvesting in the garden and talked about pumpkins being one of the last vegetables to be harvested. She read Pumpkin, Pumpkin and The Pumpkin Patch Parable. The children could then make construction paper jack-o-lanterns and Mrs. Freck provided a fall treat for Andrew Freck, Nicholas Stucky, Jake Strait, Uriah DeWeese, Ben Warpup, Hayley Haynes, Lily Sabinske, Fletcher Sabinski, Ellen Eckardt, Bryce Eckardt, Gavin Eckardt, Dylan Hutson, Alex

Tolen, Amanda Tolen and Zachary Tolen.

Story time will be held again on Friday, October 25 at 10:00.

CLEAN UP ON THESE BATHROOM TIPS

(NAPSI)-To prevent microbes from using your bathroom, experts suggest you keep these helpful hints in mind:

- Always keep an all-purpose cleaner and a sponge in the guest bath so you can sneak away and clean up when unexpected company shows up.

- Steam helps to loosen buildup, so why not clean while you're in there.

- To avoid bathtub rings, don't use oily bath preparation. Use a water softener if you live in a hard-water area, and rinse the tub immediately after bathing.

- Can't get to that dirt in the corner? Make a pointed tool by cutting an old whisk broom at a 45-degree angle.

- To avoid bacteria from breeding in your bathroom use products with built-in antimicrobial protection. Products with antimicrobial protection, such as those with Microban® protection, provide continuous protection against bacteria, mold and mildew that can cause stains and odors. By keeping microbes in check, your bathroom will be easier to clean and stay cleaner between cleanings.

Remember, the right antimicrobial protection won't wash off or wear away, providing protection for the lifetime of the product. Microban protection is found in products such as Aqua Glass tubs, showers and whirlpools, CorStone sinks, DAP Kwik Seal Plus caulk, flooring from Carpet One, flooring adhesives from Parachem, paint from Davis Paints, California Paints, Hirshfield's, Color Wheel and Miller Paint Co., and many more products throughout the home.

To learn more about antimicrobial protection and other products available with this protection visit the Microban Web site at www.microban.com.

SIX TIPS FOR FURNITURE MAKEOVERS

(NAPSI)-You may be happy to learn that there are several ways to revive and beautify a "sad" or ugly sofa.

Slipcover maker Sure Fit, Inc., which holds a yearly "Ugly Couch Contest," offers these tips for making over old, worn or outdated furniture.

1. Holes and rips? Duct tape is a wonder drug for torn upholstery. Simply tape over holes and rips, making sure they're totally covered. Then slipcover. With slipcovers priced from $30 to $200 (depending on size and fabric), the lifetime of battered upholstery can be extended several years.

2. Mushy cushions? If cushion upholstery is zipped in place, remove the old foam and replace, or add stuffing in the form of rags or discarded clothes. Zip up the now firmer cushions and slipcover furniture for a brand new look.

3. Sagging springs? Have plywood cut to the size of the seat and lay it under cushions. This should add firmness and extend the life of the piece. Add a few colorful throw pillows for a fresh touch.

4. Stains on upholstery? These are very hard to remove without leaving rings where liquid remover has been applied. Cover the whole piece with a stylish, one-piece slipcover that's inexpensive, easy to apply and stays in place with strategic elastic.

5. "Pet" peeves? Slipcover a favorite chair or sofa with a washable slipcover and don't sweat the flying fur. Try denim, one of the most durable fabrics on the market.

6. Furniture with wooden or skinny arms can be a problem when it comes to recovering. Purchase inexpensive polyester batting from a crafts store and wrap each arm, securing batting with string or strong tape. It should not be visible after the slipcover is in place.

Sure Fit, Inc. is America's largest slipcover manufacturer. For more information about furniture covers or a free slipcover catalog, call 1-888-SUREFIT (1-888-787-3348) or visit www.surefit.com. Next year's Ugly Couch Contest will take place between July 1 and Aug. 15. Contest details and past winners may be found at the site. Also available on the site is a free decorating book with ideas from do-it-yourself decorators and free design advice from certified interior designer Betsy Gates Moore ASID (American Society of Interior Designers).

MORE PAGE 2

- Give children a good dinner before they leave, and they will be less likely to eat the candy before you examine it.

- Have a well-lighted, unobstructed path to your door.

MAKE HOLIDAY LESS SCARY FOR TOTS

Halloween can be pretty frightening for small kids. Pediatricians recommend:

- Skip the mask or costume if the child doesn't want to wear them. Opt for face paint instead, but don't force

- Dress your child as a character from a story, like Winnie the Pooh. Point out costumes in stores and explain that those wearing them are just little kids inside.

- Let him stay at your side and hand out candy to others.

- If you know your child will only want a costume on for a few minutes, dress him up and visit a relative so he can show off his duds.

- Older kids can be scared too. If your 9- or 10-year-old feels uncertain, go with him. Take a flashlight.
