REVIVAL & CARNIVAL

September 28-30

The Warren Church of Christ would like to invite everyone to our Fall Revival with Wally Rendel and to enjoy a day of free fun with kids from the community for our KIDS CARNIVAL.

The Revival will be held at 7:00 P.M. on Friday and Saturday evenings, 28 & 29th and the Sunday session, on the 30th will be at 9:30 A.M. with preacher Wally Rendel, one of the best you'll ever hear. Wally is currently Director of Church Relations at Cincinnati Christian University in Cincinnati, Oh. He was the beginning preacher at Southern Acres Christian Church in Lexington, KY for 34 years before coming to CCU. He has held many Revivals over the years and is a much sought after speaker. He will challenge our hearts with the Word of God. If you like good preaching you'll like Wally. "The Master's Own" quartet will be with us again to sing and lead in the worship. They were featured during the Salamonie Summer Festival Gospel Tent meeting, if some of you remember. If you didn't hear them you'll want to come hear them this time.

The Kids Carnival will take place in the church parking lot where we have held it that last 3 years. There will be games of all kinds, horse riding, inflatable Moon

Walk, and of course some food to enjoy. The time for the Carnival is 10:00 A.M. until 1:00 P.M. We now have another parking lot to spread out our Carnival and to park. The entire community is invited to bring your kids. IT'S FREE!!!

Join us for great weekend of fellowship and drawing closer together in the Lord.

D&S REOPENING

D&S Lubritory has reopened under new ownership. Mike Elliot of Van Buren recently purchased the business and will continue to serve the area as the previous owners did. Hours will be from 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Complete automotive services will be offered and Mike is ASE Master Certified. Towing service's will also be available. The Lubritory's phone number is 765.934.2502.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Dillman United Brethren Church's annual ice cream social will be Saturday, September 15, 4 to 7 pm in the Church's Fellowship Hall. Featured will be Dillman made sloppy joe, hot dog and sloppy dog sandwiches, chips, relishes, ice cream, pies, and cakes. Free will donations will be taken. Proceeds will be used for the building fund.

Dillman Church is located 3 miles west of State Road 3 on 900 South in Wells County. From Grant County, 1 mile east into Wells County on Grant County Road 400 North. It is on the corner of Wells County Roads 900S and 1100W in Jackson Township.

BOOK CLUB

Little Ones Book Club will meet on Tuesday; September 4th at 10:00 a.m.

All children ages 0 through 3 are invited to join us for songs, stories, games and crafts. The book club meets at the Van Buren United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

GOLF OUTING

The 2nd Annual WVFD Golf outing will be held at Dogwood Glen Golf Course in Warren.

The event is on September 8 and starts at 8 am. Lunch will be provided.

TALENT SHOW

Hey Kids!

Can you whistle, dance or blow bubbles? Maybe you can burp the ABC's or sing like an angel. Do you make odd faces or turn your eyelids inside out? That's talent kiddo and we wanna see it and anything else you can come up with.

The Pre K- 8th grade AnyTalent talent show September 15th at ArtisanFest 2007 in Warren Indiana is featuring the talents of kids up to 8th grade at the Chalk Walk of Fame Kid's venue at 12:30 pm. Kids are encouraged to be kids. The talent show is just for fun it is not a competition. It is a show case of fun.

ArtisanFest 2007 is now taking entries for the Photography Show. The show is juried and open to both professional and amateur photographers. The

3 TENORS PLUS 1

If two's company and three's a crowd, then four must be a show! 3 Tenors Plus 1 mixes theater shaking voices with side splitting humor to create a program like no other. With their combined experience on the opera stage and concert platform as well as radio and television, 3 Tenors Plus 1 brings you an afternoon of everything from operatic arias and musical theater standards to Korean folksongs. Irish ballads and Neapolitan love songs, with a Yiddish lullaby thrown in for good measure! Host Warren Moulton and fellow tenors Franco Martorana, Simon Kyung Lee and Daniel Vines raise the rafters with beautiful harmonies and laughs. An unforgettable afternoon of high notes and hijinks!

3 Tenors Plus 1 will be performing September 6th at 2 p.m. in the Applegate Chapel at Heritage Pointe. This is another Fine Arts Program sponsored by Heritage Pointe.

Photography Show is sponsored by Reflexions Photography in Warren, Indiana. For an entry form and more details go to www.artisanfest.net and click on show info. You can call Sondra Fowler at 260-375-3003 or email artisanfest@hotmail.com for more information.

STORY TIME TO BEGIN

The Warren Public Library will again be offering story time this fall. If you are interested in your pre-schooler being a part of this opportunity, please sign up at the Library or call 375-3450. We would like to know what day and time is most convenient for those families interested in participation.

DON'T FALL FOR CENSUS MAILER

Attorney General Steve Carter is alerting senior citizens to beware of a direct mail solicitation from the "CENSUS OF SENIOR CITIZENS" requesting that recipients fill out a survey and provide their credit card information for "donations". The mailing may trick seniors into thinking it comes from the U.S. Census Bureau but in reality the solicitation may be nothing more than a scam to obtain recipient's credit card information.

"This mailer is devious because some people may mistakenly

YSB THANK YOU

As our "Tools for Life", school supplies program slows down, the Youth Services Bureau would like to thank those who helped make this year's program a huge success. To date 560 students received the school supplies they needed to start school. This is almost 100 students more than last year. This would not have been possible without the businesses that generously collected items. These were: Community Link Credit Union, Dollar General-Warren, Dollar General - S Jefferson, Wal-Mart, First Federal, Coffee D'Vine, National City, Dollar Tree, Movie Gallery, and OSV. Several churches also collected items. Those were Zion UM and Huntington Baptist. National Guard and Stride Rite also provided tremendous support. There were also many individuals who donated financial support which allowed us to purchase items most needed. Most importantly, a huge thank you goes to those who dropped off the items at one of the collection barrels or at the YSB office.

When people hear of this program, most think it is a great program but there are still those who make comments such as "people know they have to buy school supplies, can't they just budget for it?" or "buying school supplies is just something you have to do". This year, perhaps more than ever, we heard stories from people who had never used the program before and never thought they would but due to a loss of a job, medical bills, etc. they were desperately in need of support. So for those who wonder why we offer this program, our answer is simple - We offer the program so children can begin the school year on a positive footing and with the knowledge that they are important! What better message can our community give to our young people than that they are valued and are worthy of our support?

The YSB does maintain a small amount of school items throughout the year for those students who perhaps just move into the county or are in need once school starts. Therefore, we also accept donations throughout the year of school supplies or funds designated for school supplies.

To learn more about the agency or the programs and services we offer, please contact us at 356.9691 or 1.800.298.5444. You may also visit our webpage at www.ysofwhuntingtonco.org.

Thanks again for everyone's support!

THE UPTOWN GARDENER

by Ruth Herring

The hot dog days of August is passing by fast. School has started and I imagine a few Moms and Dads are glad for that, other than the cost of it all. It is hard for me to think of the cost for a child to start school today to get an education and so many seem to not be able to add up a column of figures without a calculator or a cell phone. And you really should have designer clothes to be able to think better. Sorry kids it is just the generation gap of 60 plus years.

My first day of school each year was not the most exciting as it started on either my birthday or a day before or after. Yes folks I am another year older. I rarely recall a teacher wishing me happy birthday. It was usually "how nice to spend your birthday at school" or some unimpressive remark, but I survived the 12 years of it. Maybe that is why I would just as soon forget that day.

I always knew what I was getting for my birthday, very few surprises. It was 2 or 3 new dresses, socks, underclothes and a pair of shoes think it's an official survey from the federal government," Attorney General Steve Carter said. "Our senior population is particularly vulnerable to these types of solicitations because they take their civic duty seriously and might be less likely to question it."

The mailer purports to be from the "The Council of Seniors" and is titled, 2007 Census of Senior Citizens. It tells the recipient "you have been selected as a representative of your voting district to take part in the official CENSUS OF SENIOR CITIZENS".

It claims that the survey "will make it crystal clear to our leaders in Washington what our priorities are" and "it's the best way to build a strong and united agenda that accurately represents the views of Senior Citizens across America."

The "census" asks recipient's opinions on hot button issues such as health care, immigration, and taxes. It requests that they make a donation to "The Council of Seniors" by sending a check or providing their credit card number. It also asks for reimbursement for printing and mailing costs even if recipients choose not to participate.

"Seniors might think that by participating in the 'census' they will make an impact on national policies," Carter added. "In reality all they may be left with is a financial headache."

Senior citizens who would like to express their political opinions should contact their state and federal representatives directly.

EXTREME HEAT CARE

With the recent forecasts calling for more extreme heat in Indiana, state health officials offer hot weather tips to cope with the rising temperatures.

"Heat advisories should be taken very seriously," said State Health Commissioner Judy Monroe, M.D. "I encourage all Hoosiers to take the necessary precautions to protect themselves during these hot summer days."

To avoid heat related health problems, the Indiana State Department of Health recommends the following:

- Drink plenty of cool water.
- Avoid prolonged exposure to high temperature.
- Attempt to get in air conditioning, even for brief periods. If you do not have air conditioning, move to a location that is air-conditioned.
- Fans are a source of relief when there is low humidity.
- Cool down with cool baths or showers.

- Wear loose-fitting, light colored clothing.
- Slow down from your normal pace.
- Avoid alcohol.
- Draw shades, blinds and curtains in rooms exposed to direct sunlight.

When temperatures reach 90 degrees (Fahrenheit) or greater, health officials caution that overexposure to the heat can be a concern. Young children and the elderly are at greater risk for such heat-related illnesses as heat stroke or heat exhaustion. Children should never be left in parked cars, even with windows cracked open.

Heat cramps are muscular pains in the abdomen, legs, and arms that occur from strenuous activity and increased sweating. Heat exhaustion can develop after several days of high temperatures and low fluid intake. Heat stroke, also known as sunstroke or hyperthermia, is a life-threatening situation in which the body is unable to regulate its temperature and cannot cool itself down.

EDUCATION FAIR

On Tuesday, September 11, 2007 at Heritage Hall in Hier's Park, Life Long Learning of Huntington County (L3HC) is hosting Huntington County's first Education Fair. What makes this event unique is that it is not directed at those in high school. In fact, it is not even directed at those in any type of education. And, it is absolutely FREE!

From nuts and berries to doctoral degrees, you can receive information about different types of educational opportunities that abound for you. While not every type of learning is aimed at improving job skills several are. Skills that additional information can be obtained about include: First Aid / CPR, Parenting, Cake Decorating, Sign Language, Adult Education, Money Management, and many, many more topics.

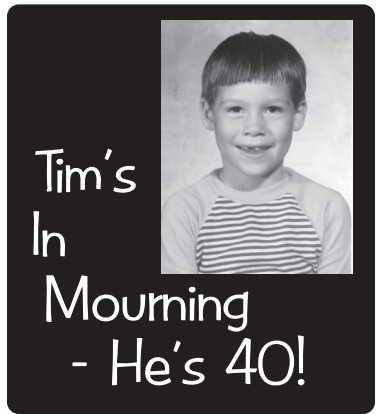

While the Education Fair is occurring there will be several free break-out sessions. You can learn about financial aid. There will be sessions about obtaining scholarships. You can find out how to obtain quality child care. You could take an inventory of your interests to help determine what types of learning opportunities could benefit you. Another topic will be the HOPE Tax Credit. And there will be a session detailing the many adult education opportunities that are available to you. Area vendors will include several local agencies from the American Red Cross to the Youth Services Bureau.

All of these free activities will take place at the Heritage Hall in Hier's Park on Tuesday, September 11, 2007 from 1:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. Those attending will be able to enjoy free snacks and drinks plus talk with representatives from several educational post secondary schools such as Huntington Beauty College, Huntington University, Indiana Tech, Indian Purdue Fort Wayne, and Ivy Tech.

Why should you take time to visit this rare opportunity? By continuing your education you can be a better person. Continuous learning, without regard to your age, helps improve brain function and keeps you young. You can learn new skills. With new skills you can make yourself more valuable in your job. Or, you can even get a new job by obtaining job certifications, degrees and skills. All of this is possible when you decide to make learning a life long experience.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting www.huntingtonlearn.org for the most up-to-date information.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Van Buren Town Council met in short session on Wednesday evening, August 22. The meeting was held in the Council Room at Town Hall. President Tony Manry opened the meeting at 7 p.m. and those in attendance repeated the Pledge to the American Flag.

Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as submitted.

A dinner will be held September 5 at 6:30 p.m. at Taylor University for Grant County local elected officials.

A Public Hearing is set for September 5 for the 2008 Budget adoption.

The IACT Conference is set for October 7-10.

According to the Police Department everything went fine during the Popcorn Festival. One of the Police cars had a problem with the air conditioner.

Superintendent Jim Webb gave his report. Two small water leaks had been repaired. Jim will attend schooling for chlorine testing.

Council granted permission for members of the Fire Department to clean the creek bank and cut down trees along side the Fire Station.

The next Council meeting will be September 5.

GED ON TV

Beginning August 27, adults who want to brush up on their skills and earn an Indiana GED High School Diploma may enroll in the autumn GED ON TV semester by phoning toll-free 1.877.433.6688.

The GED Connection multimedia television series is designed for adults who want or need to study from home as they prepare to take the GED test. The television programs will be broadcast throughout Indiana on PBS stations and many cable stations. The 39 half-hour television programs cover the reading, writing, social studies, science and math that are on the GED test.

Learners who have access to the Internet can get optional extra practice with corresponding online lessons at <http://www.pbs.org/literacy>. If the student is planning to go on to IVY Tech or a university they want to earn the highest GED score possible.

A $45 enrollment fee pays for a pretest, three workbooks, the official GED calculator to practice with at home, a post-test, access to the toll-free GED ON TV Helpline and a voucher to pay for the student's GED test at any testing site in Indiana. Testing sites may charge up to $60 for the test.

Adults who couldn't complete high school should call toll-free, 1.877.433.6688 to enroll soon so that they will have time to complete the pretest and receive their workbooks before the television programs begin.

FREE MOVIE

A Free movie (a western) will be shown Saturday, September 1 south of the Montpelier Post Office at dusk. Bring your own chair or blanket to sit on. This event is sponsored by the Montpelier Kiwanis.

104TH REUNION

The 104th Annual consecutive Palmer-Lee Reunion was held at the home of Matt and Mary (Nestleroad) Bone at 7532N 600E, Montpelier.

Following a blessing everyone in attendance enjoyed a good meal and fellowship, followed by a short business meeting.

Everyone received a reunion ribbon, as was the custom a hundred years ago, to remember the event. We enjoyed viewing some of the ribbons over a hundred years old from the early reunion years.

Those in attendance were: Randall and Martha Buckland of Bryant, Bob and Mary Palmer of Van Buren, Fritz Boxell of Warren, Lena Michael, Ruth Nestleroad and Kim, Travis, Evan and Mason Huffman, all of Montpelier, Jo and Dave Lacey of Bristol, Donna Runkle of Warren, Sondra Fisher of Van Buren, Keith Nestleroad and Kevin Nestleroad, both of Montpelier, Shirley Buckland of Bluffton, Michael, Kristin, Ashlyn and Cameron Nestleroad of Bluffton, Matt, Mary, Katie Bone and John Harris of Montpelier.

Next year's reunion will be next August at Donna Runkle's house.

DRIVING IN A FOG

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley
What happens to us is that when we get overwhelmed our brains keep trying to play catch up and in the process, this brain frenzy short circuits our actions. Now don't get me wrong we are working like crazy but we don't seem to be accomplishing much because we are trying to do too much too fast.

We can even feel the CHAOS start to build. So why don't we stop the avalanche before it comes sliding down on top of us! It is because we think if we just keep juggling we can keep all those balls in the air. We are not perfect and let's face it; we are never going to be. But that is just fine with me. I don't have to be perfect to be loved. My home does not have to be perfect to be lived in. Housework done incorrectly still blesses my family. I can do anything for 15 minutes! What doesn't matter, just doesn't matter!

When you feel the pressure start to mount then that is the time to let off some of the steam so you will not explode and the avalanche suffocate you! I can hear you now! "HOW DO I DO THAT!"

Let me tell you what I do when I start to feel overwhelmed. I stop dead in my tracks when I first realize that I am beginning to feel antsy and SIT DOWN!

Then I take a few deep breaths and get out a piece of paper. Automatically my heart rate slows down and that antsy feeling subsides. The reason it is hard for us to recognize that we are feeling overwhelmed is because we have been living on adrenaline most of our lives. We have to practice slowing down when we feel antsy instead of speeding up! Think of it this way. You are going to love this one.

When you are driving and you see a problem way up ahead; do you drive faster to get there quicker. No you slow down and become more cautious. Imagine that all of a sudden you are driving in a fog and you can't see where you are going. You have to slow down. Now you can't just stop (crawl in bed) on the highway because there will be a major pile up (the house will fall apart). You have to proceed slowly and cautiously; being aware of everything going on around you. You even turn off the music so you can concentrate more. If you have a phone call you ignore it. Your mind has to be focused. That fog represents what is going on in our heads when we are trying to do too much at one time!

We can do this with our driving! So let's start practicing it with our race though our day. Your day doesn't have to be one pile up after another!

Slow your brain down by sitting down with a piece of paper.

Put on some calming music and examine what is happening to you. Ask yourself these questions.

Have I had any food today?
Have I had any water?
Am I angry?
Am I tired?
Am I dressed to shoes?
What are the priorities?
Write them down on your paper and put first things first.
Set your timer for 5 minutes and take care of yourself so you can think.

Then use your timer to keep you focused. I call it a 15 minute day! It is kind of like crisis cleaning for your head. I take my list of priorities and start at the top and spend 15 minutes on that one. It doesn't matter that it is not finished then I set my timer again and go to the next item on the list. I do this three times then I sit for 15 minutes and collect my thoughts and rest at the same time. After timer goes off; I start again!

Are you feeling overwhelmed right now? Try this! It doesn't matter if you are at work or home? Your timer eliminates the fog in your head! Use it!

OH THOSE LITTLE BITS

by The Dinner Diva, Leanne Ely
We all know how just "a little bit" can add up. The impact of doing "a little bit" can mean the difference between a neat or cluttered home. It can also influence your job performance and even help you connect more successfully with family and friends. A little bit can really add up.

But there is a juxtaposition that needs to be looked at when it comes to a "little bit". It's thinking that "a little bit won't hurt" when it comes to eating. A little bit of dessert. A little bit of a second serving. It's those "little bits" of whatever in the food department of life that will get you into a pair of elastic waist pants faster than you can say Krispy Kreme. Just that "little bit" can push you over the edge of what you need and give you an extra size or two before you realize it. Think of it this way... if a bathtub is full and to capacity, it only takes a few drops to make it overflow onto the floor. Everything has its limit and our intake on calories before we start increasing in girth is certainly no exception.

You can easily gain 15 pounds a year by eating only an extra 150 calories a day. That's one dress size. 150 calories is nothing in the scheme of things (a couple of cookies), but when we're talking about Body Clutter, it's a cumulative thing and if you've ever asked anyone, "Does my butt look big in this?" then you KNOW exactly what I'm talking about.

Here's the cool thing. You can also LOSE 15 pounds in a year by simply losing 150 calories a day. That's not a lot of calories, honest. 150 calories is a can of soda. Replace the soda drinking with water drinking and not only will you effortlessly lose 15 pounds (and one dress size) in a year, but you'll also have clearer, more radiant skin to show for it. See how easy it is to baby step your way to a healthier lifestyle?

To do this, you need to know how much you are consuming. I strongly suggest you take advantage of a free site, called fitday.com and start plugging in your numbers. If you're anything like me, you'll be shocked at how many calories you are taking in! Once you know, you can adjust your intake accordingly.

The key to losing Body Clutter is knowing what's going in so you can have an idea of what you need to do to get it going out (movement; exercise). Let's keep going forward and remember our motto for this year, "Progress, not Perfection."

And while we're reaching our goals, don't forget to use the tools you need to get there. Healthy eating is critical! Here is a recipe that will help you achieve a healthier "bottom line"-

- Asian Roll Ups
Serves 4
- 1 10-ounce can salmon — drained and flaked
 - 1 7-ounce can Mandarin oranges

- 1/3 cup finely chopped green onions
- 1 1/2 tablespoons peanut butter
- 2 tablespoons low-sodium soy sauce plus 1 more tablespoon — divided

- 1/2 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 1-2 cloves garlic — pressed
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 4 flour tortillas

1/2 tablespoon rice vinegar
Drain oranges and reserve 2 tablespoons liquid. Chop enough oranges to equal 1/2 cup and reserve the remaining oranges for a tossed green salad (which you should have on the side).

Place the salmon in a medium bowl. Add green onions, peanut butter, 1 tablespoon of the soy sauce, lemon juice, garlic and mix well. Spoon a portion of the salmon filling in each tortilla and wrap it up and serve.

In a small bowl, combine remaining 1/4 cup soy sauce, reserved mandarin orange liquid and vinegar; mix well to be served as a dipping sauce.

Per serving: 158 Calories; 7g Fat; 16g Protein; 8g Carbohydrate; 2g Dietary Fiber; 38mg Cholesterol; 814mg Sodium. Exchanges: 0 Grain (Starch); 1 1/2 Lean Meat; 1/2 Vegetable; 1/2 Fruit; 1/2 Fat; 0 Other Carbohydrates.

ONE PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH CAN HELP SEND YOUR CHILD TO COLLEGE

(NewsUSA) - Adding fun and creativity when packing lunches with your child this school year could put your child in the running for a $25,000 college scholarship! Kids, with the encouragement of their parents, have reinvented the classic peanut butter sandwich using their own imagination to create Caramel Apple Turtle Treats, Peanutti Paninis and Rocking Rainbows. These recipes have helped to excite their everyday lunch and at the same time have helped them to earn scholarship money for college.

The makers of Jif® are now accepting entries for the 6th Annual Jif Most Creative Peanut Butter Sandwich Contest™ from now until November 15, 2007. The grand prize winner will receive a $25,000 scholarship fund, each of four runners-up will be awarded a $2,500 scholarship fund, and each finalist will receive a Jif gift basket.

The Jif Most Creative Peanut Butter Sandwich Contest™ is intended to foster creativity and encourage parents and children to spend time together in the kitchen. Moms have trusted Jif for decades to be a part of their children's lunch. Over the past five years, thousands of kid chefs from across the country, with their mom's help, have invented peanut butter sandwiches using Jif peanut butter and their own creativity.

The winner of last year's most creative peanut butter sandwich was inspired by a child's love of sushi. Twelve-year-old Alexandra Yoder of Fort Wayne, Indiana, created "Peanut Butter Rolls -; Sushi Style," which consisted of Jif Creamy peanut butter, strawberry cream cheese and fruit rolled in a crepe, cut and served "sushi style."

The Jif Most Creative Peanut Butter Sandwich Contest™ is open to children ages 6 to 12. For official rules and entry forms, visit www.jif.com.

if I really needed them. Coats, hats mittens and boots were usually hand me downs.

Our books rarely was new as they traded with families back and forth. If a book had a page missing or a newer printing that was a bit different, no big deal you shared what was different with the person you sat next to. A Golden Rule tablet, pencil and crayons (16 colors) and a ruler was the supplies. Oh yes we had to take a small jar with a lid to put paste in that the teacher scooped out of a gallon jar she kept in her room. What new books we had were workbooks to supplement the text books. I can remember standing in line at Barnharts Book store in Huntington to get what was needed. Sometimes we came to Warren to, I think it was Rexall Drug store to get books. That was a big deal because we would then go to Ditzlers to get ice cream. The big cement ice cream cones guarding the door was something to see.

We did not have all the modern things the kids have today, but we were taught well and have a lot of happy memories of the 12 years spent in the Andrews School. The school is gone and a new one has replaced it, it was sad to see it torn down, the new one is nice and if it lasts 50 plus years like the old one it will have a lot of memories echoing the halls.

This past week at the market a couple asked about tomato preserves. I told them I would have some at the market next week. It is something you don't hear of much anymore. We had it at home and was pretty good on fresh baked bread or biscuits.

Here is the recipe I found in Moms 1927 Farmers Guide Cookbook. I am sure it is the one she used.

Tomato Preserves
2 pounds red or yellow tomatoes. 7 cups sugar 2 lemons sliced very thin 1/2 tsp salt, 1/2 tsp whole cloves 1/2 tsp. whole allspice 1 stick cinnamon 1/4 tsp ground ginger. Scald and skin tomatoes, coarsley diced, cover with sugar and let set overnight. Next morning drain off the juice add lemon, salt and spices tied in a bag and bring to boil 10 minutes. Add tomatoes stir often to keep from sticking and cook till they are transparent and slightly thicken. Remove spice bag and pour in sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 3 half pints.

There was a note added if you didn't care for the spices it could be omitted and if using yellow pear tomatoes just cut them in half.

Enjoy, this was not really my favorite but we ate it anyway.

VBS RALLY

September 9th, 7:00 p.m.

Hey Kids! Remember our great Community VBS back in June? We want to invite you to come back for a fun evening of remembering the songs and combined efforts of building the Prayer Bears and giving toward the building of an Indian HOGAN HOUSE for a family in AZ. Well, we have taken the Bears to the Inidan kids at Red Sands Christian Church and School and built a Hogan House for that family in AZ. 13 from the Warren Church of Christ traveled out to Winslow, AZ. August 4-11 and made our mission a reality. We want to share the evening with you, your parents, grandparents, neighbors and friends and SEE THE SHOW about YOUR efforts to help them. Don Crain, Director of the Navajo Trails Mission will be here in person to share with us and thank us. Plan to be here for the fun time! Pictured are: Todd, Angie & Gracie Winkler, Lillian Hartley, Missy Hippensteel, Abby Hedrick, Larry & Cheryl Watson, Troy & Jenny Price and Bill & Lori Bonham in front of the Hogan House they built.
