PHARMACY HOURS

Your Pharmacist, Terry Daniels, is required to routinely complete Continuing Education. He will attend the Indiana Pharmacists Alliance Annual Convention on Saturday, September 30th. Due to this Pharmacy Continuing Education event on Saturday, September 30th, the Warren Pharmacy will not be open that day.

The Warren Pharmacy will be OPEN normal hours FRIDAY September 29th and MONDAY October 2nd, 9AM - 5:30PM but will not be open on SATURDAY September 30th

Every Pharmacist, licensed in the State of Indiana, must acquire 30 hours of continuing education credit every 2 years. Ask your pharmacist about these topics, or what (s)he's been researching recently.

You may call the Pharmacy (260) 375-2135, and leave a message with your refill order and phone number.

We thank you for bearing with this inconvenience.

It is a privilege to serve the Warren community.

FREE POCKET PLANNER

The Warren Pharmacy has received the 2018 Norman Rockwell 12-Month Pocket Planner. Small enough to fit in a purse, or a pocket, each Calendar starts with January 2018, with room on each day to write the important events that affect you and your family. They are available as a FREE GIFT at the Warren Pharmacy.

SHEEP PRODUCERS

The Huntington County Sheep Producers will meet on Thursday September 28 at 7:00 p.m. in the Huntington Co. Courthouse Annex to discuss items related to the 4-H sheep project. Topics for discussion include possible rule changes and improvements for the 2018 4-H Fair. All 4-H sheep members and interested producers may attend this meeting.

For more information, contact Purdue Extension - Huntington County Office, 1340 South Jefferson, Huntington or call 260-358-4826.

FLAVORS OF FALL

THE UPTOWN GARDENER
 by Ruth Herring

As I write this morning we are getting a much needed shower, perhaps it will close up the gaps and cracks in the yards and gardens. Tried to start cleaning up flower beds few days ago and the ground was like cement so I gave up on that real quick. Just decided it was a good day for a cup of coffee and a good book out in my favorite chair on the patio and not think about how neglected they looked.

Fall is approaching fast on us and hard to believe summer is nearly over. My dad always said that a second chance of summer in late fall, he said Grandpa Forst was told by his Indian Friend you have squaw winter before with a bit of snow or unpleasant weather then a few days of Indian summer, that I look forward to as the last fling of nice fall weather.

I have a lot of projects lined up to keep me busy for many moons and it is time to reorganize the sewing room - better known as the "Woman Cave". The title given to it by my lovely children, right now it rather looks as if Ole Harvey blew in and left part of Texas.

The pumpkins, squash, gourds, and Indian corn is showing up and I was thinking of the big long neck squash we always raised at home in the fall garden. Mom would take the meaty end slice it and fry it in butter and it was always a big hit at our supper table. The seed end she would cook it down and make pies or make squash butter, it was seasoned with a bit of brown sugar and cinnamon, it was so good on toast and often times it was with home made bread. I ate it many times for breakfast with orange juice or fresh cows milk. Just one of my favorite treats in the fall. The squash kept well in the cellar for quite some time and was a nice winter veggie for us.

I am going to need to find me one and have some good stuff from it. Try it you might like it. Happy Fall you all.

PERFORMS IN NFL OPENER

Abigail Martz of Van Buren was among the over two hundred Dean College students to participate in the 2017 NFL pregame celebration held at Gillette Stadium on Thursday, September 7, 2017.

Best experience ever; Indescribable; Truly special; Once-in-a-lifetime opportunity - these are just a few words that Dean College students are using to describe their experience.

Over two hundred Dean College students, including Arts and Entertainment Management (AMGT), Business, Dance and Sport Management majors, participated as stunt card group members, banner holders and dance performers as the New England Patriots faced the Kansas City Chiefs in the NFL opener.

This is the second opportunity for Dean College to participate, having previously performed in the NFL pregame celebration in September 2015.

It was unequivocally sweet for those students who performed for their second time.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime experience that I had the opportunity to experience twice," said AMGT major Pat Budris '19. "When we ran out to the field, you could feel the electric in the air. The crowd was roaring; it was incredible."

Jaclyn O'Keefe '18 also participated in the 2015 performance and shared the same sentiments. "Never in a million years would I think that I'd be able to participate in the Patriots NFL Kickoff not only once, but two times! My two experiences were different, but both indescribable."

Sport Management major Dean Bennett '18 was part of the night's banner group, holding the 2017 Super Bowl banner with his peers at the 50-yard line. "This was my first experience participating in the event and holding the center banner was amazing. I was standing right next to Gronk (Rob Gronkowski) which made the experience even better."

Angeli Myatt '20 was thrilled to participate in the stunt card group. "Getting the opportunity to participate at the Patriots Kickoff is something I'll never forget. The energy on the field and in the stands brought such a wonderful and happy feeling. Definitely one of my most memorable nights!"

Even faculty members participated alongside students, including Associate Professor of Dance, Todd Shanks. "Exciting doesn't even begin to describe it," said Shanks. "Dancing side by side with my students and colleagues on the field, in front of over 60,000 fellow Patriots fans was incredible. Beyond the experience of the performance, it was great for all of us to be a part of such a large-scale production."

The night turned out to be a family affair for first year dance student Celine Santorsola '21, as she performed on the field alongside her sisters Adrena '19 and Leanne '16, current Patriots Cheerleaders. "It felt amazing to walk in my sisters' shoes for a night! I idolize them so much," said Santorsola. "If this is the beginning of my time at Dean, I can't wait to see what's next."

By the end of the night, students were able to experience first-hand what it takes to produce such a large-scale performance. In the upcoming weeks, students will receive an event debrief in the classroom to bring the learning experience full circle.

The opportunity was brought to life through The Center for Business, Entertainment and Sport Management at Dean College, a partnership with the Kraft Sports Group. DNR Free Day
Admission to Indiana's state park properties and state forest recreation areas where entrance fees are charged will be free on Sept. 30 in recognition of National Public Lands Day.

National Public Lands Day is the nation's largest single-day volunteer effort for public lands.

Volunteer opportunities at Indiana State Park properties on Sept. 30 include trail work at Raccoon State Recreation Area, Turkey Run State Park and Brookville Lake, invasive plant removals at Brown County, Spring Mill and Ouabache state parks, and river cleanups at O'Bannon Woods and Tippecanoe River state parks. Many other properties will offer similar volunteer opportunities.

But National Public Lands Day isn't all work and no play. The day is a reminder that public lands are places for outdoor recreation, conservation and making memories with families and friends. Properties will offer hikes, pioneer activities, crafts and live bird shows, too.

FALL PREVENTION

September 22 is National Falls Prevention Awareness Day and the PARKVIEW HUNTINGTON FAMILY YMCA is joining the National Council on Aging (NCOA) and the Falls Free Coalition for 10 Years Standing Together to Prevent Falls, a day of action to help raise awareness and prevention of falls in Huntington.

Each year, it's estimated that one out of three Americans aged 65 or older will suffer a fall, leaving many of these adults with a fear of falling that can cause them to limit physical activities. This leads to reduced mobility and diminished quality of life, and actually increases their risk of falling. In addition, as the population ages falls put an immense strain on the health care system, with the financial toll expected to reach $67.7 billion by 2020. The good news is that falls are preventable. With a focus on healthy aging, the Y is committed to helping older adults learn their fall risk and access programs that can help them reduce their risk for falls.

"As a leading community-based organization dedicated to improving the nation's health, the Y is asking older adults, caregivers, family members and health care professionals to raise awareness and prevent falls in the older adult population," said Todd Latta, Associate Executive Director, PARKVIEW HUNTINGTON FAMILY YMCA. "Falls are preventable, but many older adults and their families don't know how to safely get active; the good news is that organizations like the Y can help."

BONHAM

Robert "Bob" Bonham "passed into his Savior's more immediate presence" on Friday evening, July 28, 2017, in Kalispell, at age 91.

He was the husband of Catherine Keathley, and father of three children, Howard Russell "Rusty," Catherine Ann "Cathy," and Thomas Richard "Tom," and was "Grandpa Bob" to nine grandchildren and eight (soon to be 10) great-grandchildren.

Bob was born in Warren, Indiana, on Sept. 20, 1925, to Howard and Gladys Bonham, a local farm couple. He grew up on the farm with his older sister Martha, and attended Warren High School. In 1943 he enlisted in the Navy, at age 17. He was accepted into the V-12 Fighter Air Corps and trained at various locations during the war. As part of his training, he studied journalism at Colgate, developing skills that he would later use in his life.

With the end of World War II, Bob moved to Detroit to work as an operations manager with the Chicago & Southern Airlines. While there, Bob met the lovely Catherine Louise Keathley, a young ticket agent and stewardess, who later became his wife. They were married in 1951 and enjoyed 60 years together, until Catherine's passing in 2012.

Bob and Catherine left Detroit in the early 1950s, relocating to Hernando, Mississippi, where Bob worked with a local paper and son Rusty was born. They later moved to Hamilton, Alabama, where he was the owner of a small-town newspaper. During this time they welcomed Cathy into the family. Bob continued his journalism/printing career in Whitehaven, Tennessee, and then in Galveston, Texas.

The early 1960s brought the family to Pennsylvania, where Bob was employed by the Bucks County Courier-Times. Here their last child Tom was born, and the family remained there until 1989. In the late 1980s Bob changed careers to become a successful Realtor.

In 1989, having suffered a massive coronary, he went into retirement, moving with Catherine to Kalispell to be near their daughter. Here they hosted many guests from around the country, and Bob took great delight in sharing the beauty of the valley and surrounding areas and then typing out descriptive letters about these adventures (mostly citing the routes and restaurants).

People who knew Bob in recent years all would comment on his sharp mind. He treasured a wealth of information that he readily recalled in detail. He was a student of history, especially the railroad, the Wild West, Native Americans, the Civil War and the Revolutionary War. He knew more about Montana history than most Montana folks. He inspired others with a simple and abiding faith and often returned us to the question, "What is the purpose of the Church?" He would gladly talk for hours, if you would porch-sit with him and Bo. He loved getting neck rubs (he would pay cash to grandkids), humor (Tim Conway), music (Tijuana Brass), eating out (Perkins), coffee (Rosauers), animals (Bo, his faithful companion), art (Charlie Russell), the old hymns, photography, driving, and "a place for everything, and everything in its place."

Bob will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him — his family, neighbors, coffee buddies, caregivers and church friends.

He was preceded in death by his sister Martha Bonham Stroud, his daughter Cathy Brenneman, and his granddaughter Erin Brenneman. Bob's cremains will be interred, along with Cathy's and next to wife Catherine's, at the family burial plot near his hometown of Warren, Indiana. There will be a memorial service held at 10 a.m. today, Aug. 1, at the Mountain View Mennonite Church in Kalispell.

Johnson-Gloschat Funeral Home and Crematory is caring for the Bonham family.

BRENNEMAN

Catherine "Cathy" Ann Bonham Brenneman died peacefully of natural causes at 11:40 p.m. on April 13, 2017, after a long and joyous life, surrounded by loved ones and music. She was 59 years old.

Cathy was born in Hamilton, Alabama, to Robert Eugene Bonham and Catherine Louise Keathley on Aug. 1, 1957. She and her family moved around the South until settling in Newtown, Pennsylvania, when Cathy was in middle school. In 1976, she left Pennsylvania to attend college in Bluffton, Ohio, where she studied elementary education.

After graduation, Cathy worked as a teacher in Pennsylvania for several years before relocating to Kalispell to start a family and eventually pursue a master's degree in social work. As a social worker, she spent many years traveling the state, working in children's mental health services, and she dearly valued the friendships she made in the schools she served. In the final years of her life, she worked as the executive director of the Nurturing Center in Kalispell, where she had a strong, devoted team whose support she cherished and relied on. She lived and worked in Kalispell until her death.

Music was one of the driving forces in Cathy's life and something she shared with all who knew her. She was discovering and sharing new songs up until the end. She loved to sing and her voice always shone through the congregation at Mountain View Mennonite Church. She loved live music and delighted in going to concerts with her close friends and, especially, with her children and their friends. They will never cease to be amazed at the number of hours she drove in a crowded van to take them to shows in Oregon, Washington, California and beyond. She gave them the gift of music and it is one of the ways they will celebrate her for the rest of their lives.

Cathy was known to all who encountered her as a light of life. She connected people like nobody else, and poured her heart into the people and causes she cared about. She cared deeply about peace and justice. She had a tender heart for animals, a passion for helping people, a phenomenal and often devilish sense of humor, and a love of life. Cathy believed in seizing opportunities, giving selflessly and generously, and making everybody feel welcome; one of the great joys of her life was seeing her home in Kalispell grow to include many friends and family. It can safely be said that, if she knew you, she loved you. But the true loves of her life were her two children, Jesse and Erin Brenneman, and she treasured the opportunity to watch them grow and explore the world and expand their own families. Cathy leaves a legacy of unconditional love, and it is a legacy that those who knew her will carry on.

Cathy is survived by her father, Robert Bonham, of Kalispell; her brother, Rusty Bonham, and wife Mary Lou Bonham, of Portland; her brother, Thomas Bonham, and wife Cindy Bonham, of Belton, Missouri; her son, Jesse Brenneman, and wife Catherine Lea, of Brooklyn, New York; her daughter, Erin Brenneman, of Portland; her auxiliary children, Bente and Kenneth Grinde, of Missoula; and countless friends and acquaintances who shared in her vibrant spirit. She will be missed and she will be celebrated.

A celebration of Cathy's life was held on Saturday, April 22, at Mountain View Mennonite Church.

BRENNEMAN

Erin Catherine Brenneman passed away on Saturday,

July 15, 2017, in Portland, due to injuries suffered in a hit-and-run incident. She was surrounded by friends and family. She was 26 years old.

Erin was born in Kalispell to Cathy Bonham Brenneman and Joseph Duane Brenneman on April 4, 1991. She attended Fair-Mont-Egan Elementary School and graduated from Flathead High School in 2009. After a brief stint at Flathead Valley Community College, Erin attended Goshen College in Goshen, Indiana, where she graduated summa cum laude with a degree in peace and justice and conflict resolution. While living in Goshen, she worked at Ryan's Place, a children's grief support center. After college, Erin returned home to Kalispell and worked at Montana Coffee Traders for several years, which would become one of her most beloved spots and where she made many close friends, before relocating to Portland in 2015. There, she established an extraordinary community of friends, family and coworkers who loved her deeply and nurtured her in all that she did. At the time of her death, Erin was the manager of Hungry Heart Bakery in the Montavilla neighborhood and a volunteer at Women's Residential Center, a treatment and rehabilitation center, and was planning to attend graduate school in the fall to get her master's degree in social work.

Erin was sweet and stubborn, compassionate and hilarious, unpredictable and always available to help. Through the struggles in her life, Erin developed a personal strength and a commitment to loving and respecting all that she met, without ever losing her wicked sense of humor. She was truly dedicated to making the world a better, kinder place, however possible.

Erin loved everything about coffee, from brewing it to drinking it, to finding unique places in which it is served. She loved each of the communities she built in her numerous places of employment. She loved journaling and writing and kept a prolific blog. She loved the farm where she grew up. She loved her pets, especially cats, even when they didn't seem to love her. She loved riding her bike in Portland and calling her family while riding, so that it was very difficult to hear what she was saying. She had a famous sense of humor — often silly, often biting, always on alert. She loved to tease others and to make fun of herself. She had a nearly bottomless generosity and care for others and never ceased to amaze those who knew her — and those who didn't — with her compassion and thoughtfulness. She loved music and books and she claimed to hate movies, although she actually liked a few. Dearest of all to Erin, everywhere she went, were her friends and family, for whom she would do anything. They work now to continue that legacy.

Erin is survived by her father Joseph Brenneman and stepmother Nancy Pensa, of Kalispell; her brother Jesse Brenneman and sister-in-law Catherine Lea, of Brooklyn, is understanding risk. Older adults can assess their fall risk by taking a simple test at www.ymca.net/health-wb-fitness. Through this assessment, individuals can learn how routine activities and other factors help determine their risk for falls.

Once assessing risk, the next step is to take action. The PARKVIEW HUNTINGTON FAMILY YMCA is helping to improve the health and well-being of older adults across the county through programs like their Active Older Adults/SilverSneakers offering a wide variety of senior exercise classes from Y-Fit to Adaptive Yoga and Water Aerobics.

The CDC suggests these basic lifestyle and safety changes to help reduce risk or prevent falls:

- Begin an exercise program to improve your leg strength & balance.
- Ask your doctor or pharmacist to review your medicines.
- Get annual eye check-ups & update your eyeglasses.
- Make your home safer by:

- o Removing clutter & tripping hazards.

- o Putting railings on all stairs & adding grab bars in the bathroom.

- o Installing proper lighting, especially on stairs.

CAREER SHOWCASE

An opportunity to explore and apply for careers in the healthcare field has been scheduled for Oct. 19 on the Lutheran Hospital campus. A similar event drew more than 250 people in April.

The Lutheran Health Network Career Showcase will take place from 4 to 7:30 p.m. in Lutheran's south lobby, located in Medical Office Building Two, 7910 W. Jefferson Blvd. Free parking is available in the south parking garage. Enter door 1L to reach the south lobby.

Representatives from multiple Lutheran Health Network entities, including hospitals, medical groups and urgent care clinics, will meet potential employees passionate about the delivery of patient care.

Attendees can visit specialty booths to network one-on-one with LHN team members, share resumes, discuss job opportunities and, in some instances, take part in initial job interviews. Appetizers and refreshments will be served.

To avoid registration lines, attendees are encouraged to register online by Oct. 18 at LutheranHealth.net/showcase

Clinical and nonclinical opportunities include: RNs, LPNs, Case managers, CT technologists, EVS techs, IT techs, Lab technicians, MRI technologists, Medical assistants, Medical technologists, Nutrition services (cooks, room service aides), Patient care assistants, Pharm techs, Pharmacists, Radiology technologists, Registration/Patient access, Rehab: PT/OT/ST, Respiratory therapists, S.P.D. techs, Surgical technicians, Ultrasound technologists, Vascular technicians.

HAUNTED AVIATION

The National Model Aviation Museum, located in Muncie, Indiana, invites the public out for a fun day of safe Halloween activities October 21 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with its second annual AMA Fright School event.

If your family is looking for a safe Halloween activity to kick off the season, visit the National Model Aviation Museum on October 21. Kids will enjoy Halloween-themed projects and activities and also get the chance to view the museum. The museum, which is the largest of its kind in the world, will be open Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and closed Sunday.

Kids in costume will get in free when accompanied by a paid adult. Regular admission for kids is $2.50 and the cost for adults is $5.

Local groups and businesses are encouraged to get involved by setting up a space in the museum parking lot for trunk or treat. This is a free marketing opportunity. Bring candy for the kids and materials to market their companies.
