SUMMER READING

In recognition of the importance of a child's reading skills to his discovery of himself and his world as well as to his success in school, the Warren Public Library provides a summer reading program for children of the Warren area.

Children of all ages are encouraged to "Read Around Indiana" by reading books by Indiana authors, about Indiana or about the state's many aspects, including race cars, the underground railroad, Indian mounds, farming, pioneers, the Amish, space travel, Johnny Appleseed, Abraham Lincoln, Raggedy Ann and Andy, Little Orphan Annie and don't forget our favorite cat, Garfield.

Reading records can be picked up beginning July 6. As Garfield said, "People who can read, should. Reading makes life a lot easier."

Originally formed in their years at Huntington College, the group has been performing together throughout the United States and Canada since 1996. ## MENTORS HIRED

Recently the Huntington County Family & Work/Life Task Force was awarded $25,000 to enhance the Child Care Network Project. Local employers have been meeting for years to support quality child care initiatives. Many have made financial contributions to increase the supply and quality of providers who offer care during non-traditional hours (2nd or 3rd shift and weekends). A major component of the project is a mentoring program to assist the new providers in achieving a quality child care home.

Three licensed providers were hired as mentors for the network. Christie Bell, owner of ABC-123 Daycare in Warren, and Huntington providers, Barb Conwell, of Country Kids Daycare, and Kim Klosowski, of Tots 'N Not, will mentor the new providers who enroll in the network. ### AMERICAN KIDS: THEY ARE THE HUMAN CAPITAL IN OUR TECHNOLOGICAL FUTURE

There used to be an assumption that natural resources determined whether a nation's economy would grow and be successful. But some economists believe that the central factor in a nation's growth is the education and skill base of its citizens.

The American economy has shown more sustained growth than almost any other, but American high school students don't rank high on international tests. How can that be?

Economist Michael Elliot, writing in Time, says American universities are outstanding, but they couldn't do the job if high schools weren't doing theirs.

High schools are doing a better job than ever before. They have returned to basics while assessing student performance in state-mandated tests. At the same time, American kids have become Internet savvy and keyboard confident in grade school. By the time they graduate from high school, they have developed the skills and comfort with technology that are vital for success at college or in the job market.

There's more. It's a hidden element in our schools: American students learn technology, social skills, and group work in environments that celebrate diversity!

Education in some urban schools can't compete with that of foreign countries. But in general, the combination of basics, technology, and diversity in American schools will help maintain the U.S. economy better than the oil or diamonds of other nations will, Elliot says.

RECOVERING FROM THE LOSS OF A BELOVED PET

When a pet dies, people find themselves apologizing to friends for their sad mood or their tears. Rather, they should realize that when pets become members of the family, mourning is unavoidable.

But how do you recover? Psychologists for the Association for Pet Loss and Bereavement in New York City give this advice.

1. Have a small memorial service. It will be very therapeutic.
2. Recall happy memories of your pet with others who knew him.
3. Give yourself permission to grieve. Stress and fatigue are results of denial.
4. Talk about it with those who share your love of animals.
5. Recognize that this pet can never be replaced, but leave yourself open -for a new pet when you are ready.
6. Eat well, get enough sleep and exercise.
7. Remember your pet loved you and was one of the lucky animals.
8. Tell kids the truth. Say the pet died, not that it was put to sleep or went to heaven, says Dr. Wallace Sife, author of The Loss of a Pet (Howell Book House).
9. Think of your other pets. Animals view death as a natural thing. Writing in Prevention, Sife says letting them sniff the body lets them know what has happened so they won't be looking for their friend.

AREA NEWS

Management, Inc., has been contracted to coordinate the project. The mentors will share their knowledge and experience with the new providers and assist them with creating a professional development plan that leads toward licensure. Additionally, the new providers will enroll in Child Development Assessment (CDA) classes as required by Indiana licensing regulations.

The mentors are actively pursuing training as well. They will be attending a special 3-hour mentor training on Thursday, June 27. In addition, the mentors will be working towards 90 hours of training as a requirement for accreditation. Accreditation is a nationally recognized assessment through the National Association of Family Child Care that emphasizes quality in 6 areas: relationships, environment, activities, developmental learning goals, safety and health, and professional and business practices. Though Kids Kampus is accredited through the National Association for the Education of Young Children, currently there are no accredited family child care homes in Huntington County. This will be a major step for improving the quality of child care homes in our county as each of the mentors will be asked to take a closer look at their program and create their own professional development plan. The project coordinator will set up monthly meetings to assist the mentors with their mentoring responsibilities as well as help them with the requirements for accreditation.

Beginning next month applications will be accepted for network providers. More information will follow, but interested individuals may contact Wendy Mink at 468-9027. Parents who are looking for child care or who would like a Report Card to evaluate the quality of their current provider may also call the above number for child care resource and referral assistance.

QUAYLE GOLF OUTING

Vice President Quayle will return to the area to participate in the Eighth Annual Quayle Center Classic Golf outing and charity auction at Orchard Ridge Country Club in Fort Wayne. The event begins on Sunday, July 7, with a reception at 4:30 p.m. followed by dinner and a charity auction at 5:30 p.m. On Monday, July 8, golfers will tee-off at 9:00 a.m. at the 18-hole annual golf outing followed by an awards luncheon. Participants will receive foursome photos on the course with the Vice President, and prizes will be awarded to all teams.

Among the items to be auctioned at the dinner will be dinner/theatre packages, trips, artwork, shopping sprees, electronic equipment and celebrity autographed items. Kent Hormann from WKJG-TV and Steve Shine will serve as emcees.

Entry fees are $300 for both days' events, and $90 for non-golfers interested in attending the dinner charity auction only. Course sponsorships are also available. For more information and entry forms, contact The Dan Quayle Center at 260-356-6356. Final entry deadline is June 29.

All proceeds from the Quayle Center Classic benefit the educational programs and exhibits of The Dan Quayle Center in Huntington, home of the United States Vice Presidential Museum. The Museum is a destination for visitors from around the country as well as the world to learn more about the history of the vice presidency and those who have served in the office. The Museum provides educational programming for schoolchildren from Indiana and Ohio. Nine educational programs are offered for students in second grade through high school. Each program is unique, covering topics ranging from the history of the vice presidency to the workings of state and federal government.

For more information please contact the Museum at (260) 356-6356. The Dan Quayle Center is the home of the United States Vice Presidential Museum. The Museum provides educational programming and exhibits about Vice President Dan Quayle, the Indiana Vice Presidents and the Office of the Vice President and all those who have held it. The Center is open Tuesday through Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Sunday, 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. It is closed on Mondays and major holidays. Educational tours are available for school and adult groups upon request. During the past year, 3,000 students from Indiana and Ohio have participated in educational programs provided at the Museum.

4-H ANIMAL ENTRIES DUE

4-H members planning to exhibit animals and poultry at the Huntington County 4-H Fair need to submit their livestock and/or poultry pre-entry forms to the Huntington County Extension Office no later than Wednesday, July 3. Pre-entry forms were mailed to 4-H members during the week of June 17. If 4-H members have not received the pre-entry information, contact the Extension Office immediately.

The 4-H Fair Board and 4-H animal superintendents use the pre-entry forms to determine stall/pen/cage set-up at the 4-H Fair. Without this information, pen space at the fair may not be available for 4-H members and their animals.

For more information, contact the Purdue Extension - Huntington County Office at (260) 358-4826 or 2358-4827.

MINI 4-H FUN DAY

There will be a Mini 4-H Fun Day Workshop on Tuesday, July 2 from 10:00 am-3:00 pm at Heritage Hall in Hier's Park. Make sure that your son/daughter brings a sack lunch. *If you are a Mini 4-H'er and have not called in your t-shirt size, please call the Extension Office at 358-4826.

REVERSING THE TREND

Today the trend is for small country Meat Processing Plants to close because of the cost of meeting government health standards and the lack of family members who want to continue on with the business. Manleys are the exception because they have met these health standards and have family members willing to dedicate themselves to the challenges of the retail fresh meat business. The Manley family invites you to come celebrate with them on June 26, 2002 at 3:00PM for a ribbon cutting ceremony and an open house that will feature Meat Specials.

The open house will extend through June 27, 28, & 29th. Hours will be from 8AM to 5 PM Thursday and Friday. Saturday hours will be from 8 AM to 12 PM (noon).

STARTING A SMALL BUSINESS

Instead of going to work for someone else, are you thinking about starting your own business?

To help you decide, the Federal Consumer Information Center is offering a package of two publications — Starting a Small Business from the U.S. Small Business Administration and A Guide to Business Credit for Women, Minorities, and Small Businesses from the Federal Reserve System. These booklets are packed with information on such topics as developing a business plan, how to get loans, where to turn for technical help, sorting through legalities, understanding cash flow, marketing, and more.

Whatever your skill or idea, the information in this package can help you assess your abilities and better your chances of succeeding. Do you have a new idea to sell, or a new twist to an old idea? If your idea or service isn't unique, are you "the best on the block?" If not, can you become the best? Are you a self-starter? Will you work overtime for something you believe in?

Getting started is a big step, requiring a lot of work and financial preparation. After you know the type of business you want to run, learn how to select a location and evaluate your competition. Find out how to get the money you'll need for start-up or for expanding operations.

Get sound business advice from the experts on owning and running your own business. There are three easy ways to get these valuable publications. This package costs $1.00.

PERSONAL EMERGENCY RESPONSE

If you live alone, how would you get help in an emergency if you couldn't get to a phone?

One sure way is to get a Personal Emergency Response System (PERS). A PERS is a small electronic device like a pendant or watch that you can wear or carry. If emergency help is needed — medical, fire or police — the system telephones an emergency response center where you are identified. The center will then either contact you or alert an emergency service to go to your home.

To learn more, get a copy of Personal Emergency Response Systems (Item 378J, 50¢). Call toll-free 1 (888) 8 PUEBLO, that's 1 (888) 878-3256, and ask for Item 378J.

Or send your name and address, and the appropriate item number and charge to Federal Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, CO 81009. And visit www.pueblo.gsa.gov to read or print this and hundreds of other FCIC publications for free.

CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT

Are you a parent — divorced, separated or never married — with children to support? Do you need help to collect child support from the other parent who has been ordered to pay?

The Handbook on Child Support Enforcement (Item 505J, free) from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services can help you get what your child deserves.

The process of obtaining child support begins at your local child support enforcement (CSE) office. Generally run by the states, CSE programs are found in your telephone directory, usually under the state/county social services agency. They are also listed in the back of the Handbook.

Learn more about your rights in getting child support, including health insurance and how to work across state lines, with the Handbook on Child Support Enforcement. ## AREA NEWS CONTINUED

KIWANIS NEWS

On June 22 the Warren Area Kiwanis club met with Betty Yoder opening the meeting. Prayer was offered by Lou Ann Shafer and Betty led the group in the pledge to the flag.

On this second meeting of the month in June, a Scholarship breakfast was held for 18. Joan Boyer, Jackie Huffman, Cheryl DeWeese, Joyce Sorg, Betty Yoder, and Lou Ann Shafer provided a variety of breakfast casseroles, muffins, rolls, mixed fruit, juices, and coffee.

After the breakfast, Betty Yoder, president, presented three scholarships. Five hundred dollars was given each of the following graduates: Brad Berghoff, Amber Surfus, and Rochelle Boxell (pictured above). The club was honored to have their parents present, too.

The club has had a busy June. At the recent meeting at Knight Civic Center, Brady Smekens reported on the food booth held during the Alfeld auction in the gym and auditorium at the Knight Civic Center.

The club has been working in the Knight Civic Center Concession stand during ball games below the hill. Members work several nights a week selling cold drinks, popcorn, etc.

July will also be a busy month for the group. Cold drinks and water will be sold to the parade participants and crowd prior to the Salamonie Festival Annual Parade. During the rodeo, the club will be offering cold drinks and sandwiches. While the three-on-three basketball and tractor pull is held, the club again will operate a refreshment stand.

The club will have bags of candy given to the ball players and coaches for the parade. The kids will be tossing out candy to the crowd so look for a treat from the Kiwanis Club Team.

Brady also gave an update on the Sunday Luncheon Program. Another meeting will be held in August to detail plans further.

CELEBRATING 75TH YEAR

The Warren Gamma Upsilon Chapter of Tri Kappa will be starting their 75th year of service to the Warren Community.

The Chapter was established on August 2, 1927 by Charter Members: Pearl Bartholomew, Hadde Black, Isabel Good-Byers, Ethel Click, Ruth Good, Ruth Jones, Buena Laymon, Pauline Priddy McCague, Ermytrude Shultz, Ethel Wearnly, Mary Wilhelm, Inez

Wilson.

The chapter will begin their year long celebration with a float in the Salamonie Summer Festival Parade. The float will support a 6' tall decorated cake and over 1000 miniature lights will adorn the float. The float will be on display after the parade in front of Video Vision for night time viewing and the members will be serving birthday cake at 9:00 p.m. There are approximately 60 members serving in the active and associate chapters.

JCUMW MET

The Jefferson Center United Methodist Women met at the church at 10:00 a.m. on June 6, 2002. President Myrna Neff welcomed those present and thanked the hostesses Treva Holt, Esther Gray and Carmen Wilks. Myrna shared birthdays from the Prayer Calendar and told us she had e-mailed greetings to a missionary in Mozambique and received an answer. She welcomed our guest, Agatha Miller. Twelve members answered roll call- Barbara Bear, Ann Brauchla, Esther Gray, Mary Lou Hanna, Barbara Hart, Mary Emma Holmes, Treva Holt, Mary Neff, Myrna Neff, Carmen Wilks, Carolyn Winters and Pastor Kathie Jones.

Our lesson "To Have a Home: Courageous Women Leading the Way" was presented by Barbara Hart. She had created a poster showing poverty and homelessness around our world. Women of courage have often seen the solutions to problems that government and society have been unable or unwilling to face. Members of United Methodist Women historically have sought to offer God's shalom of safe haven to women, children, and youth through our mission outreach.

The president thanked the group for the dozens of cookies to be taken to Huntington House. She also gave a report from the Assembly she attended in Philadelphia April 25-28.

Joys and concerns were shared and meeting closed with prayer.

BINGO AT THE LIBRARY

Eight children attended the Bingo Party at the Van Buren Public Library on Friday June 21st.

As they entered the children's department, they received a bingo card along with some beans or markers to cover their numbers. A few children would trade bingo cards as they played the game. We had several winners during the hour. Each winner received a book of their choice.

Refreshments were different kinds of party treats. Cool aid was served.

The next Story time will be Friday morning June 28th 10:30-11:30. We are going to celebrate Helen Keller's Birthday. The attendance prize drawing for the Electronic Keyboard will also take place.

Those attending were Maryrose Burns, Cameron Riddle, David Irwin, Robert Tate, Lauren Yeakle, Leah Yeakle and Tyler Joseph.

July we start our Summer Reading Program. We will be meeting Monday and Wednesday mornings 10:30-11:30. We will not meet on Friday's again until after the Summer Reading Program.

DAMES MET

A Hawaiian Luau was hosted by Lilly Nutter & Taya Decker for Warren's Red Hatters. The Innis Party room was transformed by the lovely, colorful decorations. Orange/pineapple punch, a hula girl cake, plates of fruit tidbits (grapes, pineapple, cantaloupes, watermelon, strawberries & kiwi) completed the Hawaiian atmosphere.

Plans were made for attending the Red Hatter tea at Hostess House, 28 July. Membership cards were given to: Jo Bowman, Taya Decker, Willadean Hethcote, Debbie Ledbetter, Velma Lindstrom, Lilly Nutter, Mary Palmer, Helen Stokes, Martha Buzzard, Dee Pattison and Virginia Olson. Illness prevented Miriam Rice and Helen Strassner from attending. A hilarious time was had with each member posing for a picture in Taya's special grass skirt chair. Members had to work at finding their place at the table as the cards sported their Hawaiian names. The group then traveled to the Hethcote's to see how their float is progressing. A poem was read, composed by Lilly Nutter with wonderful assistance by Taya Decker. It is self-explanatory as it expresses the purpose of the Red Hatters.

REAL ELEGANT DAMES

by Lilly Nutter

Our Purple attire's our expression
Of the royalty of our years,
And the red hats sported so gaily
Dispel all our notions of fears.

The enjoyable, friendly tea parties
Keep our friendships aglow with joy;
When we wear our red and our purple
The attention we draw is :
"Oh Boy!"

We feel that laughter is healing,
An outlet for all of our tensions;
Being silly together is infectious
Giving life whole new dimensions.

We've given of ourselves to our families,
And played each hand at those games
Our new career here at Warren . . .
Is serving as Real Elegant Dames !
